

SUDDEN END TO THE WAR IS PROBABLE

Oscar S. Straus, a Member of The Hague Tribunal, Sees Signs of Great Britain and Russia Coming to an Amicable Agreement.

WILL MAKE THE DARDANELLES FREE.

Give England Domination of Persian Gulf, Restore Manchuria to China, With Certain Rights There Secured to the Japanese.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Former Minister to Turkey Oscar S. Straus, a member of The Hague Tribunal, expresses the belief that a sudden termination of hostilities in the Far East is possible in the near future. "I have long had the impression," he said, "that we will wake up some morning and find that through the good offices of Great Britain, with the tacit consent of the signatory powers to the treaty of Berlin, an arrangement has been agreed upon by which the near eastern and the far eastern question have been settled by one stroke. That is to say, Russia will have come to an agreement with Great Britain, and secondarily with the signatory powers, having free access to the sea through the Dardanelles, in return for which a permanent adjustment of the Afghan boundary and Great Britain's domination of the Persian Gulf will be granted, and that in the Far East Japan's sphere of influence will be recognized in Korea, while Manchuria with certain rights to Japan ceded, will revert to China. This done, the peace of the world will be insured certainly for our generation, and by the end of that time the nations will have become so accustomed to availing themselves of The Hague Tribunal that wars will be largely eliminated."

JAPANESE CELEBRATED EDWARD'S BIRTHDAY.

GENERAL OKU'S HEADQUARTERS. Nov. 10, 4 p. m. via Fusan, Nov. 11.—A spirited Russian attack on an advance post last Tuesday night was repulsed after a half hour of military fire. The Japanese positions in Manchuria are progressing. The birthday of King Edward was celebrated by the military attaches yesterday. The camp was on fire through the hospitality of Gen. Oku.

Prince Naishimoto, Field Marshal Oyama, and the correspondents participated in the celebration, which was succeeded by primitive dances and wrestling matches. Col. Tulloch received the congratulations in behalf of the British.

FRANCE CONSIDERS ANGLO-FRENCH NOTE.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Daily Telegraph correspondent writes from Paris: "It is rumored in political circles today that the presentation of an Anglo-French note to Russia and Japan with a view to mediation is under serious consideration at the French foreign office. Mr. Cambon, the French ambassador in London, has come to Paris. It is stated at Minister Delcasse's request to confer with the government on the question."

RUSSIA EXPECTS U. S. TO KEEP HANDS OFF.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Emphatically, but with all courtesy, Russia, through her ambassador, has several times informed the neutral powers that she will brook no mediation at this time in the Russo-Japanese war. It can be announced that Russia expects her wishes will be respected by all the powers to which she has commissioned her views.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA WORKS FOR PEACE.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Queen Alexandra has been in constant communication with the Dowager Empress of Russia and Emperor Nicholas since today's last few days. This is interpreted as a hopeful sign and possibly indicates the establishment of some sort of modus vivendi between the two empires. The two great difficulties in the way of any suggestion of peace are the apparent opposition of Emperor Nicholas present advisers to a settlement of any kind, second, the presence of a Russian fleet in the Baltic, and third, the Russian attitude in the Far East.

SAID SHE WANTED HUSBAND

Of Course It Was All a Joke, But—Well, Look at the Rice on Church Steps.

Miss Margaret Kichham, president of the Old Maids' convention, which was held at St. Patrick's Church in East St. Louis Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and five minutes later there was enough rice scattered about the steps of the church to supply marching rations for a Japanese army.

Miss Kichham is a niece of former Sheriff John Kichham of Winatleny Park, East St. Louis, and her home has been with her aunt, Mrs. C. Stewart, in the same residence suburb. Only by courtesy to real "old maids" could she be placed in their ranks, for she is young, vivacious and an uncommon beauty of the blonde type.

BANK SHORTAGE $30,000; TRUSTED CASHIER DISCHARGED

Anton F. Mispagel, Chairman of St. Charles County Republican Committee, and for Fourteen Years Official of Savings Institution, Almost Prostrated by Dismissal.

PRESIDENT SAYS LOSS IS COVERED BY BOND

Irregularities Said to Have Extended Over Two Years, Drafts Having Been Entered as Cash and Loans Made on Insufficient Security—No Prosecution Will Be Undertaken.

Anton F. Mispagel, chairman of the Republican central committee of St. Charles County, Mo., and until yesterday cashier of the St. Charles Savings Bank, is at his home in a state bordering on mental distraction, while his bank is out with a statement saying he has been discharged and that the bank's accounts show a discrepancy amounting to a shortage of about $30,000.

Theodore Bruere, president of the bank, has assured the public that no depositor or stockholder will suffer by the shortage, the bank being secured by an ample bond given by solvent bondsmen.

The whole matter has occasioned a sensation in St. Charles and the county, where Mispagel is not only a prominent commercial and social figure, but is perhaps the biggest of the practical politicians of the county, being known in every township as "Tony" Mispagel.

Mispagel is 50 years of age, and has one of the best homes in St. Charles. Mispagel has remained indoors ever since the bank statement was issued, and he was there with his wife this morning when inquiry was made for his statement.

LOSSES COVER TWO YEARS.

He then went to his home, and Louis F. Marten was installed as cashier. The bank immediately issued a public statement, expressing regret to announce that there was a discrepancy, amounting to a shortage, in the bank's accounts, that A. F. Mispagel, the cashier, had been discharged, and that the discrepancy would not occasion disaster to the bank or its depositors.

The bank is capitalized at $50,000, and has a surplus of $70,000. The officials of the bank state positively that there will be no prosecution of anyone.

President Bruere says the bank has suffered losses by an ingenious system extending over two years, the chief method having been to record as cash drafts which were not cash and which were carried about in the pockets of the person or persons responsible for the discrepancy.

A specific instance is pointed out in the case of the drafts of a St. Louis commission company, which were entered on the books as cash when there was no cash.

President Bruere says the bank has a considerable business with St. Louis banks, and that it was principally with this business that the person or persons causing the discrepancy tampered in such a way that the irregularities were not discovered until this week, though they had been going on for a period of two years.

The bank officials say the discrepancy in the institution's accounts is probably due to private loans made upon poor security by someone unauthorized to handle the funds, but they refuse to look less severely upon the facts for their reasons, and have published in the St. Charles newspapers the statement concerning the shortage and the discharge of Mispagel.

WORKED TO PAY OLD DEBT.

Mispagel is a lifelong resident of St. Charles County. He was born and raised at O'Fallon, where he was engaged in the milling business with his father. The mill made an assignment, and it is said that since he came to St. Charles and prospered Mispagel has devoted a considerable portion of his income to paying farmers of the county for wheat lost in the failure at O'Fallon. Friends of Mispagel point this out as proof of his honesty.

Mispagel is highly spoken of by his fellow townsmen, and his dismissal from the bank has caused many who believed him to be indispensable to the institution. He is said to be a man who never gambles, who does not drink, and whose one diversion is politics, to which he has given a great deal of time and money. He was in active charge of the Republican campaign in St. Charles County this fall, and was just enjoying the fruits of an exceptional victory when he was dismissed from the bank.

Mispagel, when seen at his home in St. Charles by a Post-Dispatch reporter, was in a state bordering upon nervous collapse. He readily admitted that he was "shaky" at the bank, the shortage amounting to $30,000. He said he had brought the misfortune upon himself by carrying drafts of friends who had been unable to meet their obligations to him. He said that he had gone on from day to day, hoping to recoup the bank's losses by means of graft payments.

Mispagel says he has given the best part of his life to the bank (he is 50, and has been connected with it since he was 20) and feels that the bank has dealt hardly with him. Friends and a physician are with him constantly, fearing the effect of his distress upon his health.

"TOO GOOD A FRIEND," SAYS LARGE BORROWER.

Willis Baird, a grain dealer with an office in the rear of the St. Charles Savings Bank and a customer of the bank, said Friday that Mispagel had at no time been engaged in speculation, and that his personal habits were not of such a nature as to jeopardize the interests entrusted to him. "I am one of the friends to whom Mr. Mispagel was too generous," said Mr. Baird. "I have known him since 1880, when he was county collector, and I have been a customer of the bank for the twenty years or so that he has been cashier. I have always been a borrower, but lately I have borrowed more heavily than heretofore. 'Without the exact figures before me, I would say I now owe the bank between $20,000 and $40,000. I believe the security the bank has is good, and I know that I shall use every effort to make it good. I believe I shall be able to pay the bank every dollar, with interest. 'But I have been unfortunate, and could not meet the maturing notes as they fell due. Mr. Mispagel could not take them up, either, and the collateral could not be at once converted into sufficient to make it good. I want it to be understood that Mr. Mispagel was simply too good a friend, and found it impossible to say 'no' often enough."

Postmaster Goes to Prison.

HONOLULU, Nov. 11.—Via San Francisco, Nov. 11.—United States Judge Dole has sentenced L. P. Kaheua, formerly postmaster at Kapa, Hawaii, to one year's imprisonment for embezzlement of funds of his office. Kaheua's delinquency amounted to $10,000.

WIFE ASKED HIM TO KILL HIMSELF

Man Says He Refused to Accept Suggestion and She Left Him.

William Geusz filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court Friday against Annie R. Geusz, of 2303 Selena street.

He alleges that she left him twice during their married life of twenty-eight years, and that she often advised him to take poison or shoot himself, saying that he had no reason to live.

Geusz each time protested, and says and left him for the last time March 23, 1904.

FAIR WRECKERS TO BEGIN BY DEC. 15

Work of Demolishing the Staff Structures Planned at Once
After Exposition's Close.

LEAVE MISSOURI BUILDING.

Structure Is Steam Heated and May Be Used for Exposition Company Offices.

Although it probably will be two years before all the World's Fair buildings have been cleared away, the work of destruction will begin, even on the exhibit palaces, within two weeks after Dec. 1, which is the closing day.

According to J. R. Feltz, superintendent of construction of the World's Fair, the palace of Horticulture will be the first among the exhibit buildings to feel the demolition's hand. It is expected that which can be removed quickly and Superintendent Feltz believes it will be ready for the wrecking companies by Dec. 15.

The other exhibit buildings will be turned over to the writers as soon as emptied and arrangements are being made to turn the removal of exhibits. It is expected that the buildings will be emptied long before that time.

The wrecking of the state buildings and of the Pike will begin within two weeks after the closing of the fair. The only building to be removed is the Missouri State Building. It is expected that the work will be left to the wrecking companies before Jan. 1.

Although the Missouri building is to be wrecked along with the other staff structures, there is a possibility that this building will be left to the wrecking companies for use as an office building. The fact that it is steam heated and centrally located make it desirable for this purpose and the office of the company must be removed from the Washington University buildings by Dec. 1.

FEED THE EDITOR.
Best Way to Get Good "Copy."

Not everyone knows what food to turn to in case of sickness or decline in health.
A man in Elgin, Ill., says, "My attention was first called to Grape-Nuts some time ago when Butcher, who is an editor in Chicago, broke down from overwork and nervous prostration set in and then paral-yzed."

"The expert specialist (the physician in charge) gave special instructions, as to the food and put him on Grape-Nuts and Cream."

"He began to recuperate quickly and there was a very marked showing of the strength and value of the food. He soon got well and has been at his work ever since, and never shows any further signs of breaking down, although he works harder than he did before, but he is well and properly fed and his brain and nerves kept nourished with the right kind of food—that is Grape-Nuts and cream."

CAN KERENS LAND SENATORIAL PRIZE?

Man Who Thrice Secured Minority Nomination Will Not Get Seat Without Struggle.

QUIT AT THE WRONG TIME.

Supporters of L. F. Parker Have to Overcome Objections Based on Recent Incidents.

The certainty that the legislature is Republican by a majority of 12 on joint ballot has added to the list of Republican members anxious to succeed Francis Marion Cockrell as United States senator from Missouri.

The candidates have nearly two months in which to conduct their senatorial campaign. The election of a senator does not take place until two or three weeks after the General Assembly convenes, but the party caucus which decides the matter is usually held the first week.

Among those mentioned for Cockrell's place to the present time are Thomas R. Niedringhaus, chairman of the Republican state committee; Edward W. Watters, former president of the St. Louis Transport Co. and a well-known St. Louis broker; Lemuel F. Parker, general attorney of the Frisco Railroad; Maj. William Warner, U.
S. district attorney at Kansas City, and
Col. R. C. Kerens of St. Louis.

Kerens and Niedringhaus have practically announced their candidacies, and the latter has received the unofficial indorsement of the St. Louis delegation to the legislature.

During the campaign, Col. Kerens was strangely absent from Republican headquarters. So were his lieutenants. But within the last few days the "colonel" has become quite sociable, as have his lieutenants.

Since Wednesday "Charlie" Smith, ex-surveyor of the port and political manager of Kerens on many occasions when the latter needed vigorous assistance to down Piley, has been a frequent caller at Republican headquarters in the Commercial building.

The men who conducted the successful Missouri campaign are not disposed to look with favor upon Kerens. The "colonel," who has been receiving the minority nomination for United States senator in the past two or three senatorial elections in the legislature, will have difficulty in assuring himself that things are apt to go his way.

The name of Charles Nagel, the St. Louis attorney who sought the minority nomination two years ago, has received attention from many Republicans, and it is said that he will have powerful backing if he should decide to enter the contest.

In F. Parker, the Frisco attorney, has indirectly indicated his desire to go to the United States Senate. His friends say he has been working quietly but effectively for the Republican party for years, with no prospect and no hope of reward.

Those who would oppose Parker say he has been the legislative agent of the Frisco Railroad Co. at Jefferson City at the 1901 and 1902 sessions of the legislature.

Except Col. "Bill" Phelps, he was the only railroad representative at the capital two years ago.

Incident Marred.
Cordial Feeling.

That again, unpleasant feeling has been caused by an incident which occurred during the campaign. It appears Chairman Niedringhaus wanted a number of passes for his spellbinders over the Frisco road.
Riley came back that the request "is not worded right." Niedringhaus asked no more favors from the Frisco.

When Senator Fairbanks came to Missouri in his private car a short time ago the Republican managers sent him 50 passes over the Frisco system. In no other case had this courtesy been charged up to the Republican committee. But the story goes, the Frisco made an assessment of 500 against the Republican committee for the use of their tracks and engine.

So Parker, to use an expression of his own, "must be up and doing" if he expects to make progress in the face of the arguments that are urged against his prospective candidacy.

A United States senator is elected for six years. His salary is $5000 a year, the same as that of a member of the lower branch of Congress.

Senator Cockrell, when his term expires,
March 4, 1905, will have served 20 years, or five terms, in the national Senate. His successor will not take his seat at Washington until almost one year after his election to the legislature.

It requires a majority on joint ballot to elect. William J. Stone, elected two years ago, whose term expires in 1905, is the other Missouri representative in the United States Senate.

CAULFIELD TO MAKE CONTEST

Reported He Will Join Coudrey and Protest Hunt's Election to Congress.

Henry S. Caulfield, defeated for Congress by the Eleventh district by Congressman John T. Hunt, Democrat, may join Harry M. Coudrey, the defeated Republican candidate in the Twelfth district in a contest.

Coudrey's friends say he is certain to contest, alleging that fraudulent votes in the Fourth ward elected Ernest E. Wood.
While Mr. Caulfield has not yet decided to contest, he has issued a statement declaring that fraud was perpetrated against him in the First and Eleventh precincts of the Third ward. In this he says:

"My opponent cannot have seen the returns from the First and Eleventh precincts of the Third ward and honestly claim to have been elected."

"In the First precinct the alleged count was made before 8 o'clock in the evening.
Any honest judge of election would admit this is a physical impossibility. An order absurdity was the return from this precinct. Not a single ballot was switched. My opponent used an assumed majority of 25 in that precinct."

"I counted every vote except myself. I was given 25. All the Democrats got 24 or thereabouts except my opponent who got 25. Considering that I am with an arm of my ticket elsewhere throughout my district this slump is an unexplainable except on the ground of fraud."

"Another remarkable thing is that my vote and my opponent's vote is 24 or the exact number of registered voters. Such devotion to the duties of citizenship is very rare, to say the least."

Pullman Porter Killed.
Robert Saddler, 36 years old, a colored Pullman porter living at 3727 Rutger street, is dead as the result of being struck by a Wabash shuttle train at Compton avenue Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Saddler was crossing the track, was struck by the train and thrown 50 feet. He died shortly afterwards.

RACKING COUGHS

Coughs which rack the throat and lungs forecast the early development of consumption, pneumonia and bronchitis, unless cured promptly with the famous doctor's prescription, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

and before I had taken half of the bottle the cough was much better, and before I had finished the whole bottle the cough was cured. I certainly cannot praise it and recommend it too highly for any kind of a cough.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Thompson, of Lillydale, N. Y., Grand Worthy Wise Templar, and Member of W. C. T. U., tells how she recovered from a serious illness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am one of the many of your grateful friends who have been cured through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and who can to-day thank you for the fine health I enjoy. When I was thirty-five years old, I suffered severe backache and frequent bearing-down pains; in fact, I had womb trouble. I was very anxious to get well, and reading of the cures your Compound had made, I decided to try it. I took only six bottles, but it built me up and cured me entirely of all my troubles. My family and relatives were naturally as gratified as I was. My niece had heart trouble and nervous prostration, and was considered incurable. She took your Vegetable Compound and it cured her in a short time, and she became well and strong, and her home to her great joy and her husband's delight was blessed with a baby. I know of a number of others who have been cured of different kinds of female trouble, and am satisfied that your Compound is the best medicine for sick women."—MRS. ELIZABETH H. THOMPSON, Box 109, Lillydale, N. Y.

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are continually writing letters of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham, until she has hundreds of thousands of letters from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Here is another letter which proves conclusively that there is no other medicine to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with poor health for over seven years, not sick enough to stay in bed, and not well enough to enjoy life and attend to my daily duties properly. I was growing thin, my complexion was sallow, and I was easily upset and irritable. One of my neighbors advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I procured a bottle. A great change for the better took place within a week, and I decided to keep up the treatment. Within two months I was like a changed woman, my health good, my step light, my eyes bright, my complexion vastly improved, and I felt once more like a young girl. I wonder now how I ever endured the misery. I would not spend another year like it for a fortune."

"I appreciate my good health, and give the praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. TILDA, 407 Habersham St., Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of such letters.

FORGET IT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

SUSPECT MURDER IN CREMATION OF WEBER FAMILY

Knife and Bullet Wounds Indicated on Bodies of Three Persons Found—Believed That Husband and Father Also Perished.

AUBURN, Cal., Nov. 11.—The handsome residence of Julius Weber was burned to the ground last night and with it Mrs. Weber, Miss Bertha Weber and Master Paul Weber perished. It is thought that the remains of Mr. Weber were found in the debris.

Coroner Shepard and a jury have viewed the remains and await the testimony of the autopsy. Suspicious-looking wounds were found on the little boy in the shape of cuts on the head and a bullet wound was found in the mother's breast. There was blood on her clothing. Weber's body was very badly burned but no wounds were visible.

If the husband and father was burned, no one was left to tell the tale, as the only other surviving member of the family, Adolph Weber, aged 20, was not at home.

KILLED SELF AT CITY HOSPITAL

Taken There to Recover from First Attempt, Man Ends Life With Noose.

In the City Hospital, where he had been taken to recover from the effects of one attempt to commit suicide, Enos S. Fish made a second and successful attempt to destroy himself.

Removing the bandage from the wrist, which he had cut 11 days ago, he converted it into a noose, which he placed about his neck, tied the other end to the cot frame above his head, and threw himself off the cot, and half suspended by the straps by which he was bound, he slowly strangled to death.

Fish, who was 30 years old, and lived at 1107 Channing avenue, slashed his wrist Nov. 1 and attempted to bleed to death.

His condition was discovered and he was taken to the City Hospital. As he was a prisoner he was strapped to a cot in Ward 101.

He refused to tell why he wanted to die and for two days after the attempt refused absolutely to talk.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock Thursday night a doctor and a nurse passed through the ward looking after the patients.

At 11:30 o'clock the nurse passed through again and found Fish dead.

It is presumed that he killed himself some time between 10 and 11 o'clock.

It was evident that he had first removed the bandage from his wrist and tried to open the old wound. Failing in that he had formed the bandage into a slip-noose, placed it around his neck and tied the other end to the cot post.

He had then rolled from the cot, bringing the weight of his body to bear on the noose.

The straps which bound him prevented his body from falling entirely to the floor, but did not hinder the strangling operation. When found he had been dead some time. His back barely touched the floor without resting on it.

The lights having been turned low after 9 o'clock, according to custom, none of the patients on adjoining cots had noticed the desperate means taken by Fish to accomplish the destruction of his life.

PEABODY BEATEN "KNOCKS" COLORADO

People Who Didn't Vote for Him Are in Favor of Disorder, He Intimates.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 11.—Gov. James H. Peabody, Republican, himself concedes his defeat. (Alva Adams' majority over Peabody in the city and county of Denver is 5071 and in the entire state about 10,000.)

Gov. Peabody said: "The campaign just closed has been one of principles, not of candidates. I have tried to maintain peace and quiet, law and order in this state, as just as was possible, and in no case did I exceed the law as interpreted by the supreme court of the state. If the people of the state by their votes failed to approve that policy, I am still satisfied. The people know what they want and they always have the ballot with which to get it."

Republicans still claim a majority for Peabody in the state outside of Denver, but this is not borne out by the returns, which are still incomplete.

"On the face of the returns Adams is elected," said Republican State Chairman Fairley, "but the official count is not yet made, and it may change it to Peabody."

Peabody was beaten by 766 plurality in his home (Premont) county, though it was carried by Roosevelt by 200.

Mrs. Helen L. Greenfield, superintendent of public instruction, ran next to Adams on the Democratic state ticket and may pull through, but the Republicans will probably secure all the other state offices, though in some cases their pluralities are small.

John F. Shafer (Dem.) is apparently elected congressman at large, with a plurality of 200.

Robert W. Bonyne (Rep.) has about 800 plurality in the first district and Herschel M. Hogg (Rep.) 200 plurality in the Second district.

Both sides are claiming the legislature and the result will be in doubt until the official count is made in Denver and Pueblo.

Miss Bagby will sing the great mezzo-soprano aria, "O, My Heart Is Weary," from

GIRL SEEKS SOLACE FOR GRIEF IN DEATH

Sorrow Over Brother's Unexplained Absence Leads Ethel Irvin to Drink Acid.

After grieving for four days over the absence of her brother, from whom nothing had been heard since he left home Sunday to answer an advertisement for employment, Ethel Irvin, 22 years old, of 324 North Grand avenue attempted to end her life at her home by taking carbolic acid.

She is at the City Hospital, where it is stated she will recover.

Four days the mother and sister watched for the boy's return, but disappointment was always in store for them. Thursday afternoon the sister went into her room to rest, she said.

A few minutes later she was found unconscious, lying on the bed, by her little brother, Chester.

The boy ran to the police station near by and told of his sister's condition. An ambulance was called and she was taken to the City Hospital.

Citizens living as far as five blocks from the refuse pile, as was told in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, declare that the health of the neighborhood has been impaired by the odors arising from the pile of decomposed straw.

One serious case of scarlet fever in the family of Mrs. Michael Sullivan, who lives one block away from the Fair grounds stables, is directly attributed to the existence of the refuse pile.

Two other children, the son and daughter of Mrs. W. H. Thiemeyer, who lives on Kosuth and Red Bud avenues, diagonally across the street from the heap, are suffering from the scarlet fever, and their condition is complicated by the smoke and ashes which blow into their home from the pile, which has been slowly burning for more than two weeks.

Asthma and Hay Fever Cured.

The truly marvelous cures of Asthma, which are being effected by Dr. Schaffmann's Asthma Cure certainly call for notice.

Rev. G. L. Taylor, of Washburn, Ill., says: "Some 7 years ago my wife used several packages of your Asthma Cure which resulted in a permanent cure."

A Hay Fever sufferer writes: "I have been a sufferer from Hay Fever for over 20 years, and it seemed harder every year. The first night I used your Asthma Cure I was greatly relieved. It cured my cough after using a few times. I shall recommend it to all sufferers of Hay Fever."

FR. AYWARD TO GO BEFORE GRANDJURY

Priest Charged With Naturalization Frauds Will Not Appear for Preliminary Hearing.

The preliminary hearing in the case of Rev. Father T. J. Ayward, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, on the charge of registering in September by the use of fraudulent naturalization papers, which was set for Friday at 11 o'clock, will not be held.

District Attorney Dyer stated Friday morning that instead of the preliminary hearing, Father Ayward would go before the grand jury.

Father Denney, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, and Father Ayward held a conference with District Attorney Dyer Thursday, but Mr. Dyer would not say what transpired.

It is said that Father Ayward has not yet found his naturalization papers.

THE PILLS THAT CURE RHEUMATISM

Mrs. Henry Story, of No. 532 Muskingum Ave., Zanesville, Ohio, says: "My husband suffered from rheumatism so that he could hardly stand. His back hurt and he had such pain in his left arm that he could not rest night or day. The doctor did him no good and it was not until he tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that he was helped. Six boxes cured him completely and he has not had an ache or a pain since. We think the pills are the best medicine in the world."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People
cure rheumatism because they make new blood. It would be folly not to try a remedy with such a convincing record of cures.

END OF FAIR WILL BRING CRY FOR AID

President Scruggs of Provident Association Urges Philanthropists to Prepare for It.

PROGRESS SHOWN IN WORK.

Directors Elected at Meeting at Which Judge Foster Was One of the Speakers.

At the 45th annual meeting of the St. Louis Provident Association, held Thursday evening in the assembly room of the central office building at 1623 Washington avenue, directors were chosen and reports of the work done in the course of the year and the annual address of the president, Richard M. Scruggs, were read.

Previous to the meeting the audience inspected the central building and its various departments. Among the visitors was Dr. Frederick Howard Wines, ex-president of the National Conference of Charities, who was on his way to Springfield, Mo., to attend the meeting of the State Conference of Charities.

H. H. Verne, president of the Merchants' Exchange, presided as chairman of the meeting. A committee reported these names as directors:

To serve for one year—Alfred Carr, Mrs. Philip N. Moore, E. Mallinckrodt, Harvey L. Christie, Charles W. Barstow, Hobart Brinsmade, Adolphus Busch, George W. Brown, Michael Cooke, James H. Allen. To serve for two years—Mrs. Thomas McKellicock, George W. Simkins, Charles Parsons, Senter, H. M. Meier, Frank P. Hays, Rolla W. Dwight, David Wallace, D. Stinson, H. H. Verne, D. R. Calhoun. To serve for three years—R. M. Scruggs, Samuel Crippen, Edwin Harrison, Gustav Cramer, Christian Berner, Isaac H. Lohmeyer, Roger P. Annan, Mrs. Edward Tausch, H. F. Langenberg, William Burr.

President Scruggs' annual report is as follows:

The aim of the association is to lessen poverty, suffering and evil. Many influences will join us, but we must have wide knowledge of the needed methods for any given time and as well as a reasonable knowledge of the needs and possibilities of those for whom we care.

To many minds preventive work is less attractive than relief work. If we could really remove distress and suffering, the public would give us greater credit than they would for preventing it. It is our duty to prevent, to distribute money, food, clothing, coal, etc., to the needy, to give them a chance to get on their feet.

When little investigation into the merits of individual cases is made, unsympathetic people are misled. This simple investigation, the recipient and the generous impulses of the community are made to increase. The very will they seek to abolish.

A third axiom of charity is: "Relief must be sympathetic." The most fruitful relief is that of personal human sympathy and kindness. Temporary relief, however, is a necessary part of the work of the association, and it is the duty of the association to give it.

Increase Shown in Non-Resident Applicants.

Our records show that during the year there were 740 separate applications made by men without homes for meals and lodgings, and 507 men were given employment in our woodwork to earn the same. The remainder were applicants for clothing, shoes, transportation, etc., and were given wood tickets to the woodwork to pay for the articles solicited; or if not found superior, were turned away without relief. More than half of the applicants were strong, able-bodied young men, capable of earning a good living and should not have applied to the association for assistance.

We find that the number of original applications made by homeless men, compared with last year, increased 21 per cent and lodging permits issued increased 36 per cent.

In contrast with this large increase of applications from homeless men, the applications from men with families living in the city decreased about 18 per cent. This indicates that men who live here were able to find work, and that it is not the influx of non-residents, the large proportion of men with families who made application would have been able to make their way without aid.

The total number of applications of all kinds made during the year was 17,331. On these applications relief was given $1,083,000 in original and recurrent cases.

The most prominent items of material relief are food, fuel and clothing, articles which cover the daily needs of the poor. The most common of these items are the most difficult to supply, and it may be said that the Provident Association is always prepared to meet any demand under these heads promptly and adequately through its grocery room, coal room, clothing room and delivery wagons.

There are many other demands made upon it arising out of the necessities which come to the poor and which require special attention, such as medical attendance for the sick, rent money in eviction cases, burial of the dead, securing transportation, supplying furniture and bedding, procuring homes for the homeless, securing legal advice, making temporary loans, procuring medical bills, crutches and trusses, finding employment, etc.

Fair's End Promises Increase in Demands.

At this time there is a great need of systematic benevolence by churches for their communicants, of different nationalities for their members, and by all philanthropic agencies to meet the needs which the new conditions at the close of the World's Fair will bring on.

It is the duty of all great fairs that have preceded our Louisiana Purchase Exposition to be prepared for the relief of the needy. The number of applications for relief has increased from 60 to 200 per cent.

The reports of the Buffalo Associated Charities of 1903-1904 show more than 1000 applications made to the association daily for relief during the season following the close of the Chicago Exposition.

The report of the Buffalo Associated Charities of 1903-1904 shows a percentage of increase of 100 per cent in the number of applications for relief. The philanthropist should lay it down as his first duty to meet promptly all temptation to hand out alms without a knowledge of the needs of the needy. He should be sure that the alms are given to the right people, and that they are given in the right way. He should be sure that the alms are given in the right way, and that they are given in the right way.

ties of our association for making confidential reports on any charitable appeals presented to you. Information concerning past of the charities left on file in our office and special visits of investigation to emphasize this knowledge are made whenever necessary. Knowing too that tickets for the benefit of societies, worthy as well as bogus, are constantly offered for sale, we try to keep the public in the whole range of charitable appeal.

Professional promoters of charitable entertainments would good-looking young women to business offices to sell tickets and arrange with some of the local charities to give half the proceeds for the use of their name. Instances are on record where $500 worth of tickets were made and after deducting expenses, the society got less than $100. It is that too high a price to pay for the benefit received?

Even if the program is honestly carried out there is no way of knowing how many tickets are sold or how much money is received. The boards of directors of charities, who turn such irresponsible people loose upon the giving public, are taking upon themselves grave responsibilities.

There is only one way to deal with these ticket-sellers. Unless they are personally known to you, refuse to buy tickets and entrust no money to their keeping, but send it to the Provident Association.

The exposure of fraud is a thankless and difficult task, but a still greater difficulty is the frank criticism of well-meaning charities that manufacture the very distress they are supposed to relieve. The day is past, however, when good intentions and nothing else can be regarded as an adequate charitable effort.

It is the intention of this association to make our reports of direct benefit to subscribers by protecting them from fraud, and by showing the results of their contributions. We therefore respectfully urge that you consult us before subscribing to any charity unknown to you, or concerning which you have any suspicion.

During the year there has been notable progress in some departments of our work.

I mention first the establishment of a plant and dormitory for the preparation and distribution of prepared milk for sick or bottle-fed children. Through the kindness of Mr. Nathan Strauss of New York, who actively in this matter has been known, the plant was installed at our former landry premises on North Thirtieth street, and regular service of these grades of milk has been made at about 12 stations in different parts of the city. The frightful mortality among infants in poor families in the summer time has, no doubt, been largely due to the impure milk fed to them.

As a second advance, I may mention the adoption and enforcement of the rules for charitable transportation, which were formulated by the committee appointed by the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in May, 1902.

Tendency toward a more systematic charity is well illustrated in the adoption by many of the local charities of the plan of giving transportation, which were formulated by the committee appointed by the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in May, 1902.

Moreover, what is known as the "padding-out" system has been largely in vogue, and large amounts of money have been uselessly expended on beggars and idlers, as well as distressed families by sending them at much expense to the centers of population.

This, however, has all been changed, and by a binding agreement in which a large proportion of the principal cities have joined, charity transportation is now furnished only in cases where they have ascertained beforehand that substantial benefit will accrue. To this progressive work the Provident Association has been fully alive.

Thirdly, may be mentioned the successful establishment of the juvenile court system in St. Louis, by which judicial oversight of the delinquency of minors has been secured, and the responsibilities and duties of delinquent parents brought home to them. The day is past when the most important law has been enacted in our state for the good of the city.

I cannot close this report without referring to the cooperation of the St. Louis Board of Public Health, who are largely in evidence in our city, because of the continued custom of giving gratuities which obtains among citizens. St. Louis is considered one of the most progressive cities in the country, and that is by no means an empty compliment. We therefore respectfully urge that you consult us before subscribing to any charity unknown to you, or concerning which you have any suspicion.

As a second advance, I may mention the adoption and enforcement of the rules for charitable transportation, which were formulated by the committee appointed by the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in May, 1902.

Tendency toward a more systematic charity is well illustrated in the adoption by many of the local charities of the plan of giving transportation, which were formulated by the committee appointed by the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in May, 1902.

Moreover, what is known as the "padding-out" system has been largely in vogue, and large amounts of money have been uselessly expended on beggars and idlers, as well as distressed families by sending them at much expense to the centers of population.

This, however, has all been changed, and by a binding agreement in which a large proportion of the principal cities have joined, charity transportation is now furnished only in cases where they have ascertained beforehand that substantial benefit will accrue. To this progressive work the Provident Association has been fully alive.

Thirdly, may be mentioned the successful establishment of the juvenile court system in St. Louis, by which judicial oversight of the delinquency of minors has been secured, and the responsibilities and duties of delinquent parents brought home to them. The day is past when the most important law has been enacted in our state for the good of the city.

I cannot close this report without referring to the cooperation of the St. Louis Board of Public Health, who are largely in evidence in our city, because of the continued custom of giving gratuities which obtains among citizens. St. Louis is considered one of the most progressive cities in the country, and that is by no means an empty compliment. We therefore respectfully urge that you consult us before subscribing to any charity unknown to you, or concerning which you have any suspicion.

During the year there has been notable progress in some departments of our work.

I mention first the establishment of a plant and dormitory for the preparation and distribution of prepared milk for sick or bottle-fed children. Through the kindness of Mr. Nathan Strauss of New York, who actively in this matter has been known, the plant was installed at our former

landry premises on North Thirtieth street, and regular service of these grades of milk has been made at about 12 stations in different parts of the city. The frightful mortality among infants in poor families in the summer time has, no doubt, been largely due to the impure milk fed to them.

As a second advance, I may mention the adoption and enforcement of the rules for charitable transportation, which were formulated by the committee appointed by the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in May, 1902.

TEXAS PLURALITY BIG REDUCTION

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WACO, Tex., Nov. 11.—It is impossible as yet to make a definite estimate of the Democratic plurality in Texas, but the vote was the lightest in years. There amendments to the state constitution were carried. One provided for granting the legislature power to make appropriations for improvement of rivers and other internal improvements; another to legalize and establish state banks under supervision of state; another to empower legislature to increase amount of confederate pensions from $300.00 to $500.00.

SPEAKER URGES RECIPROCITY.

The third session of the convention of the Apple Growers' Association was begun in the Hall of Congresses at the World's Fair Friday morning.

Much discussion followed the speech of Alexander McNeill of Ottawa, Canada, made before the convention Thursday. In which he said that if the United States wanted reciprocity with Canada she would have to ask for it at once, for the reason that a party is growing up in Canada that is adverse to reciprocity on any terms.

Mr. McNeill said there is every reason why there should be reciprocity between the countries, and urged members of the association to use their influence to have Congress enact a reciprocity treaty.

Mrs. ELIZABETH WHALON.

"I Need New Vitality."

When you feel exhausted—when you grow tired easily—when you lose patience with the little cares of daily life—when you feel that your hopes and ambitions are not as high as they used to be—when you spend a sleepless night—when you get up almost as weary as when you went to bed—when you feel "used up" most of the time.

These are all signs that your nerve forces are burning low.

These are signs that you need new vitality.

You need the nerve strength and new vitality that Paine's Celery Compound will give you.

Paine's Celery Compound feeds new power to your nerves.

Nothing that is written or printed can give you any idea of the full luxury and delight of being always at your best, able to live your life for all there is in it.

You cannot understand it until you have once felt the exultant thrill of the abundant new nerve force made by Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. Elizabeth Whalon tells how she found "new vitality."

Wells & Richardson Co., Burlington, Vt. Gentlemen:—"For a woman in advanced years Paine's Celery Compound is an ideal tonic. My life has been full of burdens and cares. Rearing my family and caring for my home, with a few outside interests, occupied my time, and with much illness in my home my strength has been taxed to the utmost. I did not find any help until I took Paine's Celery Compound. It relieved the great strain on my nervous force and gave me such added force and vitality that the other members of my household used it, feeling greatly helped in time. Having used Paine's Celery Compound and being convinced of its medicinal value, I take pleasure in endorsing it."

Mrs. Elizabeth Whalon, 2629 Third Ave., South, Minneapolis, Minn.

Try Paine's Celery Compound to-day. Take three days' treatment. See how much better you feel. See how much more easily the trials roll away. For over 17 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the most universally used nerve vitalizer and tonic in the world.

Remember this—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this world has ever known, Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

All reputable druggists recommend and sell Paine's Celery Compound.

A TRIUMPH IN CLOTHES CRAFT

We illustrate in today's announcement the Portland Suit; it is a faithful reproduction of our garments and does not exaggerate in the drawing the graceful lines of the original.

When we speak of the original we refer to originality in clothescraft which has its expression in the garments we place before our clients. Here is shown a triumph in designing, an exact science in proportions and the utmost skill in specialized tailoring.

These are individual attributes; therefore our clothes are different, original and exquisite—they are the highest attainments in clothes making up to now.

You will not consider these state-ments purely an outburst of enthusiasm when you have compared them with other kinds.

DROPPED SOCIETY BUT NOT LUXURY

When Wife Died Dr. Leroy M. Taylor Adopted the Life of a Hermit.

HAS BURGLAR-PROOF HOUSE.

Interior Furnished With Every Comfort Money Could Buy—Few Admitted Within.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A hermit's luxurious retreat was discovered when the Washington Loan and Trust Co. came to administer the estate of Dr. Leroy M. Taylor, once one of the most prominent practitioners, who died about a month ago. In a cul de sac, leading from an alley inhabited by negroes of the poorest, most squalid kind, stands a structure on which is printed in yellow letters, "Taylor's Warehouse."

That was the home in which Dr. Taylor lived for eight years. It looks like a small storage warehouse, very much like the dozens of storage warehouses in the capital, all made necessary by the transient character of a large part of the population.

The negroes living in the vicinity knew it was not a warehouse in the ordinary sense of the term. They were not anxious, however, to increase their store of knowledge, for the doctor had the reputation of being a voodoo.

It pleased the doctor that he should have such a reputation among his immediate neighbors. Guarding his house, which was also his castle in a strict meaning of the word, was all the easier. At times he had great sums of money in his possession. Fright kept the colored brothers, in some of whom the prowling instinct is very strong, away from the house and double doors fitted with the most intricate locks money could buy, supplemented with electric burglar devices, did the rest.

Occult Study

His One Pleasure.

Occultism being the favorite study of the hermit, his reputation among his nearest neighbors was not altogether unjustified. Everything that dealt with the mysteries of the mysterious orient appealed to Dr. Taylor. If there is a rare religious in the world Dr. Taylor's library contains the best literature on the subject. At intervals he would look up his abode and disappear for months at a time, fishing or hunting or dwelling in the Himalayas or some still more remote corner of the world, and incidentally adding to his store of knowledge on the subject of religious systems or kindred subjects.

It was easy for the doctor to indulge himself in this way. Houses which, if placed in a row, would make a string more than half a mile long stood in his name on the tax assessor's books, and all were free of incumbrance.

Domestic ties he had none. Mrs. Taylor died eight years ago, dried so polished as to rob society of all its charms drove the doctor from his fine home on Massachusetts avenue to the worse than secluded spot in Brown's court. Even policemen avoid alleys such as Brown's court. They go into them only when called, and then only in pairs, so unsavory reputations have the denizens thereof.

Masonic Friends

His Only Visitors.

A few friends—scientists, doctors and Scottish Rite Masons, who made a study of the traditions of that ancient order—were given the address of the doctor's retreat. They visited him, but it was a rule, unwritten and unbroken, that no new man was to be brought into the circle without the doctor having been first duly advised of his merit and qualities of the man, was kept inviolate until, in obedience to the law, the trust company stepped in to administer what the strange man could not take with him.

Squalor of the most odorous sort on the outside, splendor such as would be expected in the home of a man of such stature as the exterior and interior of the Taylor fortress. Mahogany furniture of the kind one finds in the homes of those who have real old furniture to sell, fills the ill-famed habitation. Rare books, as fine pictures and curios as can be found anywhere fill the rooms used by the retired practitioner. But it is not a junk or curiosity shop for all that. Telephones, both in the first and second floors, and a fine bath, indicate that the doctor, when he went into retirement had intention of giving up the luxuries.

Many Locks

and Heavy Shutters.

The Taylor warehouse from the outside looks as if the owner had taken particular precautions against fire and burglars. The windows are barred and each is equipped with a steel shutter, such as would keep out fire flames to start in any of the barns or shanties in a neighborhood. Each of the doors is double bound with wrought iron, so that artillery would be needed to break them. The door to each room is numbered and their locks are so intricate that no burglar would waste time in trying to pick the locks.

The first floor has a kitchen, a storeroom and a sleeping apartment for Levi, the doctor's only servant. The second floor is where the doctor lived. Three bedrooms and the library use up the space. There were two guest chambers, but so far as can be discovered only one was used. The dust on the furniture indicates that the doctor never had an occupant. Levi, the taciturn servant, cannot recall of his having ever been used.

The library, where the strange man, he was only about 42 when he died, spent about all his waking hours when he was in the castle. The books were as carefully arranged as if Dr. Taylor had been a trained librarian. A manuscript catalogue has enabled the officers of the trust company to acquire a pretty fair idea of what there is in the library. They have now counted the books, but to the eye it is as if there were about 500 of them, and each can be termed either rare or costly for some other reason.

JAPANESE DON'T LIKE NEW LOAN

Tokio Newspapers Say the Rate Is Too High and the Time Not Right.

TOKIO, Nov. 11, 10 p. m.—A majority of the newspapers of Tokio sharply criticize the terms under which the new Japanese loan has been placed in London and New York. They pronounce the rate as being too high, considering that the amount of the loan is a comparatively small one. The Asahi Shimbun expresses the opinion that it was unwise to place the loan before the fall of Port Arthur.

The new Japanese loan is for the amount of $20,000,000, half of which will be offered in London and half in New York. The price is to be 80% with interest at 6 per cent. The loan will be secured by a second charge on Japanese customs duties. A dispatch from London, Nov. 8, said that dealings in the loan had already commenced there at 1 1/4 premium. It was definitely stated in New York yesterday last that Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of that city, had organized a syndicate to finance one-half of the loan.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Half of the new $20,000,000 Japanese loan to be offered in the market by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. will be payable in exchange for $4.50 per pound sterling. Assurance has been given the syndicate managers that the Japanese government will permit the proceeds of the loan to remain on deposit in New York banks, subject to the requirements of the Japanese government.

ADMIRAL CAPPS WANTS MORE DOCKS

Head of the Navy's Construction Bureau Tells Why Government Work Is Expensive.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Although recognizing the desirability of having more of the government yards equipped for building naval vessels of the largest size Rear Admiral W. L. Capps, chief constructor of the navy, in his annual report, published at the navy department today, says that the repairing and overhauling of the fleet must at all times remain the important work of navy yards, and in time of war their resources will be taxed to the utmost in performing such work.

The navy, he says, is increasing so rapidly that ample work will be provided for the navy yards by "repairs and refits" alone.

Of the work on the battleship Connecticut, building at the New York yard, the chief constructor says that despite every effort to reduce the cost of this, the first battleship to be constructed in a navy yard, to the most economical basis, "it can hardly be hoped that the work will be done as cheaply as when performed in private ship-building yards whose rates of pay for nine hours' work are, in many cases, less than those being paid for eight hours' work at the navy yard in New York."

It may also be noted that private shipyards do not pay their per diem employees for holidays or when on leave, whereas a very large proportion of per diem employees on the Connecticut receive pay for 16 days' leave and seven public holidays during the year without any work being done in return therefor.

He adds that the satisfactory results obtained with the Connecticut have not been accomplished without unusual effort. Attention is called to the urgent necessity for adequate docking facilities for vessels of the fleet and for the building of additional piers and general improvement of the berthing facilities at the several navy yards.

Admiral Capps earnestly recommends that the department permit the detail of three officers of the construction corps as assistants to the bureau of construction and repair. Many improvements in navy yards are recommended, but the estimated cost of this work is not included in the portion of the report made public today.

"DEMOCRATS TOO SCARCE."—TAGGART

Democratic National Chairman Says Roosevelt's Personal Popularity Brought Victory.

NOT REORGANIZING NOW.

Has No Appointment to Meet Bryan and Advises Time to Cool Off First.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has come to town to view the corpse.

He and Secretary Woodson were joined by William F. Sheehan. They held a long conference. Mr. Taggart was asked to account for the defeat.

"How do you account for it?" he replied by asking his questioner.

"The questioner told him that he agreed with Mr. Bryan that there was too much conservatism. Mr. Taggart smiled, but made no answer.

"Can you account in any way?" he was again asked.

"Yes, in this way. There were not enough Democrats."

"Are you going to reorganize the party?"

"There is no need of reorganizing. What we need is more Democrats."

"How about the policy as pursued by the national committee in this campaign?" he was asked.

"O, that's different," he quickly replied.

"Now you're talking different."

"He would not explain what he meant by the remark. Later in the day he was asked:

"To what do you attribute the Democratic defeat?"

"To President Roosevelt's personal popularity," Mr. Taggart replied.

"We had no other candidate, or any other platform, the result would have been the same. Do not feel at all pessimistic about the Democratic outlook. Look at the states in which Democratic governors have been elected in spite of great Republican majorities for the electoral ticket. Mr. Roosevelt was elected by the voice of Democrats."

Of Judge Parker's address to the Democracy the chairman said:

"That's the right way for all of us to look at it."

"There have been reports that you have an appointment to meet Mr. Bryan here next week to discuss his views on a reorganization or a realignment of the party."

"I have no engagement to meet Mr. Bryan, or for that matter, and other men to discuss the subject. Don't you think that it is a little early to be trying to talk over matters like that? We want everybody to take time to cool off and settle down and think it over. Then we will forget the past and look to the future."

PARKER WAS HARD TO MANAGE, SAYS TAGGART, JR.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 11.—Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has a son at Belts Academy in this city. The boy has been receiving letters from home, and lately he has confided to some of his play fellows that the "Old Man" found Parker awfully hard to manage and couldn't do much with him.

Young Taggart has been the object of a great deal of joking since Tuesday, but he has taken it good-naturedly.

FAIRBANKS WAS A GOOD PROPHET ON MISSOURI.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 11.—Indiana Republicans are congratulating themselves on the sagacity of Senator Fairbanks as displayed in the recent campaign in Missouri.

When he was in consultation with members of the national committee about his tour of the country he insisted that Missouri should be cultivated and suggested that he be permitted to make a few speeches in the state.

The members of the conference insisted that it would be a waste of time, and that his efforts could be utilized to better purpose in other states.

The senator took up the situation in Missouri, showed that the Democratic party was disorganized by reason of the frauds practiced in St. Louis, and declared that, even though Folk were the candidate for governor, he could not save the state for other members of the ticket if the Republicans would put forth the proper effort.

Chairman Cortelyou and other officers of the committee were not convinced, and Mr. Fairbanks ended the conference by declaring that he would go into the State of Missouri anyhow, and he believed his efforts in behalf of the party would be rewarded.

UNITED RAILWAYS OPPOSE TAX

Seeks by Injunction to Prevent City's Levy of One Mill Per Passenger.

Judge Elmer B. Adams in the United States circuit court Friday morning heard a continuation of the argument on the injunction proceedings instituted by the United Railways company, which seeks to prevent the city collecting a tax of one mill on each paid passenger carried by the company.

An ordinance was passed March 25, 1902, levying a license tax of one mill on each passenger carried by the St. Louis Transit company and the United Railways company, since consolidated. The ordinance was opposed by the companies at the time, but it was passed.

Now an injunction suit has been instituted.

The United Railways contends that the city has no right to levy any tax other than those existing under the general tax laws of the state. The city holds that the contracts with the railway companies implied the city should have this right, but that it had never exacted the tax for the reason that the companies were under great expense in improving and building their properties.

Should the decision favor the city, the annual income from this tax, it is estimated, would be $100,000.

GOV. OTERO TO VISIT FAIR.

Miguel A. Otero, governor of New Mexico, will arrive in St. Louis Monday to participate in the New Mexico Day ceremonies at the World's Fair Nov. 18. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Otero, and several prominent citizens of New Mexico.

Gov. Otero was appointed governor of Mexico by President McKinley and has held the post for eight years. He was born in the old Platters Hotel in St. Louis 4 years ago. His mother was a St. Louis woman.

Famous Clothes Adorn St. Louis' Best Dressers

A complete canvass of the city, and a thorough examination of the Coats worn by men, will prove conclusively that one-half of them bear the Famous label. This label is your guarantee of the absolute goodness and satisfying qualities of the garment it is on. Famous clothes are clothes of merit—clothes that attain the up-permost accomplishments of modern tailoring skill—clothes that possess all the artistic and clever touches usually seen in the highest priced tailored-to-order garments. If our values—quality for quality—were not far superior to those presented elsewhere, why would one-half of the men in St. Louis wear Famous clothes? It's the rightly-placed confidence that Famous clothes have long merited that bring men back to Famous again and again for their clothing—it's the triumph of fair dealing and honest methods that will crowd our great clothing floor with eager purchasers Saturday.

MRS. ROOSEVELT AND MISS ALICE COMING TO FAIR

They and Smaller Children and Cabinet Members Will Accompany the President, Who Has Consented to Be Here Nov. 26.

LIST OF INVITATIONS BEING MADE UP.

Party Will Come in a Fine Special Train Over the Pennsylvania—
Mrs. Roosevelt Feared Accidents
But Has Consented.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Roosevelt will accompany the President on his trip to St. Louis Nov. 24. At first Mrs. Roosevelt did not intend to visit the fair, but she changed her mind this morning.

Mrs. Roosevelt objected to the President's visit to the fair, as she objected to his visit to the Charleston Exposition. She has a dread of accidents.

Mrs. Roosevelt will also take some of the Roosevelt children. It is not known which ones. Miss Alice will undoubtedly be a member of the party.

It has not been decided who will be invited. Probably all the members of the cabinet and ladies of the cabinet.

Secretary Lusk says that the party will not be a large one, as it will be necessary that it be small, as it would not be possible for a large party to make the trip and see the fair in such a short time.

The trip from Washington will be uneventfully over the Pennsylvania railroad in a special train.

President Roosevelt promised a committee from St. Louis headed by Mayor Wells, who came to Washington especially for the purpose of inviting him to visit the fair. The probability is the President may remain in St. Louis until the night of Sunday, Nov. 27.

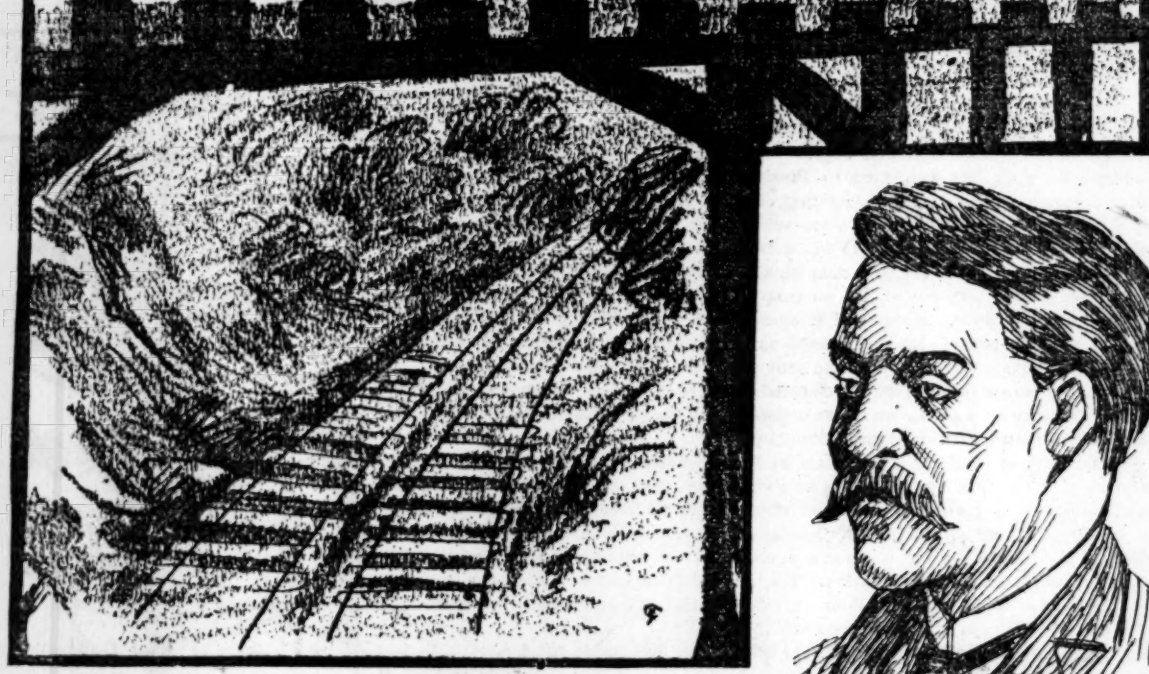

President Roosevelt has been anxious to go to St. Louis to see the fair ever since its opening. However, the presidential campaign impelled him to remain in the East, and in August he so informed Mr. William H. Thompson, treasurer of the Exposition.

The committee to which the President gave his promise to visit the fair consisted of Mayor Rolla Wells, William H. Thompson and Corwin H. Spencer, first vice-president of the Exposition. Their train was late, so they did not reach Washington until 6 o'clock. Through Secretary Lusk an immediate audience with the President was arranged.

The committee remained with him for half an hour and each member urged on the President the acceptance of the invitation, pointing out the appropriateness of a visit of the chief executive of the nation and of the gratitude which would be felt by the people of St. Louis if he possibly could find time to go.

The President cordially thanked the committee for its invitation, and after consulting his engagements for the remainder of the month, he set Saturday the 26th as the most favorable opportunity available. It is expected that the President and those who accompany him will leave here

GATEMAN PUNISHED FOR "BUTTING IN"

Judge Tracy Frees Traveler Who Was Kept from His Business
Twenty-Four Hours.

V. Menger, a traveling salesman of Chicago, who was arrested at Union Station at 12:30 o'clock Thursday night, after a fight with J. C. Pope, a gateman, over the matter of showing his ticket, was released in the City Hall Police Court Friday morning.

Pope, against whom a counter charge of disturbing the peace had been made by Menger, was fined $5 and costs.

When Menger was arrested by Special Officers Kennedy and Lynch, he declined to ride to the Four Courts in the patrol wagon which they had summoned, and insisted on calling a carriage.

The policemen drove with Menger to the Four Courts in a carriage and Menger refused a cash bond of $50 on the charge of disturbing the peace. It was then that he fled a counter charge against Pope and said he would remain in St. Louis overnight to see the outcome of the case.

Menger testified that as he passed through the gate he showed Pope his mileage book, which he held in his hand, but Pope pulled him back, he said, declaring it was no ticket.

A fight ensued and Menger was given a severe blow in the face.

Pope denied in court that Menger showed him the mileage book or carried it in his hand.

Judge Tracy looked at the mileage book, which was spotted with blood, and discharged Menger, who he held in his hand, was to blame for acting too hastily; that he had kept a man from his business for 24 hours and deserved to be punished. He then assessed the fine of $5 and costs, which Pope paid.

SHOT SELF IN PACKED STREET

Carroll Zimmerer Stood Between Car Tracks and Fired Bullet Into Lung—Will Recover.

With a self-inflicted bullet wound in his breast, which physicians say is serious, Carroll Zimmerer of 1209 North Thirteenth street, is at the City Hospital.

Washington avenue, near Sixth street, was crowded early Thursday evening when Zimmerer stopped in the middle of the street car tracks, drew a revolver from his pocket and fired a bullet into his breast. It seemed to be his intention to fall so that a street car would end his life if the bullet killed him.

Patrolman Sullivan caught him, staggering as he was about to fall, and sent him in an ambulance to the hospital. There it was found the bullet had entered one lung.

ST. LOUISIAN HURT IN KANSAS WRECK

A. F. Sleishman Among the Injured in a Smashup at Mound City, Kan.

TENDER JUMPED THE TRACK.

One Man Was Killed and Others Will Die as a Result of Their Wounds.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—South-bound Missouri, Kansas & Texas train No. 5, known as the Flyer, due in Kansas City at 7:40 this morning from Texas and Oklahoma points, was wrecked today at South Mound, Kan., eight miles north of Parsons.

Every surgeon at Parsons was hurried to the scene. One person was killed and 10 persons were injured, two seriously.

The Dead.
JOHN FARRELL, Parsons, Kan., fireman.

The Injured.
N. W. Wilson, negro porter, Hillsboro, Tex.; probably fatal.
L. D. Montgomery, Dallas, Tex.; internal; serious.
L. E. Lyddick, Sedalia, Mo.; engineer; cut about face and head.
M. J. Bushman, St. Charles, Mo.; bruised.
Chester Goddard, Bryon, Tex.; bruised.
A. F. Sleishman, St. Louis; internal; but not fatally.

George Milmore, Ill.; cut badly.
J. E. W. Fogal, Quincy, Ill.; foot pinned under wreckage; badly hurt.
G. S. Seymour, Hillsboro, Ill.; leg wrenched.

The train was running at the rate of 40 miles an hour when the wreck occurred. The tender jumped the track, carrying with it the engine, a baggage and mail car, a combination smoker and coach, and two regular coaches.

All the coaches remained upright. All the injured were in the smoker, which was badly damaged. The five remaining cars kept the tracks and the passengers in them escaped with bruises and a severe shaking up.

NEGRO ROBS MANY FARMERS

Residents of Illinois Community Are Arming Themselves to Resist Further Attempts.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 11.—Farmers residing southeast of the city are terrorized by a negro, who in the past few days has robbed five farmers of valuables as they were en route to their homes from the city.

The robber is a revolver. The farmers have organized a militia in preparation for resistance.

NIGHT OF AGONY FOLLOWS FALL FROM TRESTLE

Hurled 25 Feet to Earth by Street Car Near World's Fair Entrance Man Lay Benumbed Beside the Railroad Tracks.

LIMITED TO GATE AFTER HOURS OF HELPLESSNESS.

Picking His Way Over Long Bridge, Failed to Hear Northbound Car, Which Sent Him Headlong to Earth.

His statement to the police when he painfully limped to the Easton avenue street car loop at the World's Fair at 6 o'clock Friday morning, was that he was knocked off the Hamilton avenue trestle over the Wabash railroad tracks, about two blocks north of the World's Fair grounds, by a northbound street car at midnight, and that he lay suffering and calling vainly for help until daylight.

He did not know where he was or which way to try to go in the darkness, and could not attract the attention of anyone who could guide him.

Above him 25 feet was the trestle from which he had been knocked; beside him, a few feet away, were the Wabash tracks over which trains rumbled every hour. The banks of the "cut" in which he lay hid from his view the few twinkling lights from the World's Fair assemblage, and the still fewer lights that glimmered over in the direction of Delmar Garden. Now and then a page avenue owl car would rattle across the trestle, but the noise of motor and rail and going drowned his cries for help.

He was without an overcoat, and the cold night air pierced him to the marrow. He was in pain of the broken arm and fractured ribs was with him constantly, the dullness accentuated at frequent intervals by sharp pangs which forced from him cries louder than the intermittent groans and calls; but even the louder cries did not carry to the ears of one who could or would help him.

Limped to Fair.
Almost Frozen.

The man was benumbed with cold when he arrived at the Easton avenue loop. Sergeant McGuire and Policeman Brandt, walking together, were the first to see him. They helped him into a ticket seller's booth, asked weakly for a glass of whiskey, and it was found for him. Then he was slowly warmed by activity by stimulants and the heat from a small stove. An ambulance took him to the emergency hospital, where his injuries were dressed and he was put to bed.

Flinkard is 50 years old. He is a miller and farmer in Bollinger County, and came to St. Louis Wednesday. He has been stopping with William Matthews at 300 Washington avenue, and spent Thursday at the fair. Thursday night he devoted the last of the Pike, and began to walk along the tracks which are now used by the Easton and Page avenue cars. These tracks run north at Hamilton avenue and cross the Wabash tracks on a long trestle which is at the highest is more than 25 feet above the ground.

Flinkard says he intended to walk to his boarding house, but admits that he did not know how far he would have to walk to get there. The distance is fully five miles.

He says he had reached the trestle, safely stepping out of the way of north and south bound cars as they passed him, and was going down the north incline when a northbound car, which he had not heard, struck him in the right side, and hurled him off the trestle and to the ground. He fell on his left side, and lay, stunned, for several minutes.

He did not lose consciousness, he says, but was helpless for a long while. Thus he spent the six hours until daylight.

Flinkard's condition is serious, but the hospital physicians do not anticipate fatal results.

Cuban Secretary Ill.

Senior Manuel L. Diaz, secretary of agriculture for Cuba, is ill at his apartments at the Hotel Jefferson. He did not leave his rooms Thursday, although many callers were received. The attending physician pronounced his illness a severe cold which he contracted the first part of the week. Minister Quezada, who represents Cuba at Washington, and Mayor Emilio Garcia of Havana, are visiting the World's Fair.

ABSOLUTE FAITH.

You Can Depend Upon the Word of This St. Louis Citizen.

He has had the experience. He has faithfully tested the article. He found it as represented. He has absolute faith in its merit.

Mr. Charles A. Juengel, Florist, of 1837 to 1847 S. 14th st., says: "Every morning when I went to get out of bed and for an hour or two hours afterward the pain in my back was very observable. Later in the day it was only noticeable when I stooped or brought any strain on the muscles of the back or caught cold in the loins. It annoyed me for a year. I was told the day that there was something wrong with my kidneys and this led me to go to 'Wolf-Wilson's,' corner Sixth and Washington avenues, for Doan's Kidney Pills, and take a course of the treatment. After three weeks I did not feel any trace of the backache and discontinued the medicine. Since then I have not noticed a recurrence."

CAPTURE FOLLOWS STRUGGLE IN DARK

Patrolman Arrests Robber Suspect
After Chase and Hand-to-Hand Encounter in Basement.

The police are holding a man who says he is Edward Raymond of Aspen, Colo., who was captured after a desperate hand-to-hand struggle in a dark basement at Third and Barry streets shortly after 9 o'clock Thursday night by Patrolman Chas. Meek. Raymond is charged with aiding in robbing five patrons and the bartender in the saloon of Louis Fetzner, 1503 South Seventh street, a few minutes before his capture. Raymond, it is said, admits the robbery.

Two men were engaged in the robbery of the saloon.

They were seen by Wm. Covan of 1104 South Eighth street, who fired two shots to attract attention. As the men fled from the back door of the saloon, Patrolman Meek appeared and started in pursuit. At Third and Barry streets, one dived into a street and the other followed and after a struggle in the dark in which both used their revolvers as clubs, the man giving his name as Raymond was captured.

ILLINOIS HAS FOUR "BOY" CONGRESSMEN

The "Unexpected" Makes Rainbow Chasers Members of National Body Without Struggle.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The Republican landslide in Chicago has brought about some curious results. Three congressional districts in the city and one "downstate" district had a normal average Democratic majority of 15,000. In 1902 only one district was contested. This year four men, all under 30 years of age, were given the Republican nominations in the districts as a compliment. One of them, Anthony Michaelis, 27 years, self-educated in the ghetto, working for $15 a week as a book-keeper, was elected in the Fifth district.

He spent less than $100 on his campaign. Charles Wharton, victor in the Fourth district, is a lawyer, aged 28. He spent $200 in his campaign.

"I never thought I had a chance, and just went around to get acquainted," said he.

Charles McGavin, victor in the Eighth district, is 28, a lawyer. He beat William Preston Harrison, in a district that gave 18,000 Democratic plurality two years ago. The entire city hall was out to elect the major's brother, but McGavin beat him on one issue. He said Harrison was a carpet-bagger and had not lived in the district six months, and he proved it.

In the Litchfield district James J. Rives, aged 28, who is just taking up the study of law, was nominated against the veteran Caldwell. Rives did not take the situation seriously enough to make a speech or an additional acquaintance. Friends first told him of his election.

BIGGEST WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI

Yohn Yohnson carried Minnesota.

St. Louis is the largest horse and mule market in the world, and is full of automobiles.

A good many Missouri Democrats went fishing on the 8th, but they did not catch any fish.

The Sultan of Turkey has 71 titles. It is remarkable that he has never tried to marry an American heiress.

The Southwest is outdoing all other sections in railway building, and the new roads will all benefit St. Louis.

Surely the independent voter is abroad when a Democrat is elected governor of Massachusetts by a plurality of 35,710.

THE PRESIDENT AT THE FAIR.

Mr. Roosevelt's visit to St. Louis and the World's Fair is a graceful acknowledgment of the compliment paid him by the people of Missouri in giving his electoral ticket a handsome majority. He could not choose a mode of expressing his appreciation more acceptable to Missourians of all party creeds.

The World's Fair is a conspicuous example of the kind of achievement dear to the hearts of men who do things. To make it was enormously difficult; it is big, it is interesting; it is beneficial. What more can a man ask who loves deeds?

Mr. Roosevelt may be assured that there will be no politics in the welcome he receives, but plenty of enthusiasm and good will. Some of us opposed the candidate. But we will all pay our dues to the President.

The inhabitants of the area in which Russians and Japanese are fighting are doubtless willing to have the dispute referred to The Hague court.

WOMEN IN SUFFRAGE STATES.

Reports from Utah, Colorado, Idaho and Wyoming indicate considerable progress in the feminization of politics.

In Utah the anti-Mormon Gentile women were out in force.
In Colorado and Idaho unwonted quiet prevailed at the polling places and in Wyoming the women procured the defeat of several objectionable state candidates. They served at the polls as judges and clerks of election and a marked improvement in election day manners was observed. In all these states the number of women voters was greatly increased. And in Colorado it is gratifying to hear that there were fewer women engaged in fraudulent work than usual.

It is a lesson in politics. The women in the suffrage states are learning not only to use their newly-granted privilege, but to use it in a proper way.

The results in these states will no doubt encourage the suffragists elsewhere by furnishing facts and arguments greatly needed to create a favorable public opinion. A practical test is more convincing than sentiment and logic.

There can be no doubt of the part played by the Butler gang in defeating the excellent anti-Butler ticket nominated by the Democrats. The ticket received many Republican votes, which were overcome in the Butler wards. There ought not to be any doubt in the minds of the Democrats as to what to do with the Butler following. So long as it holds any power it menaces the party. It is a menace to the better elements of all parties. It is a menace to the welfare of the people of St.
Louis. The independent vote in St. Louis is large enough to determine local contests, and the party leaders must win the independent vote in order to win elections. Both must repudiate the Butler-Ziegenhein forces.

RESTORE THE PARK LAKE.

In planning for the complete restoration of Forest Park after the close of the World's Fair, the executive committee in charge of the work should make the restoration of the lake a chief feature.

To carry out the landscape plans of the World's Fair picture, what was known as Post-Dispatch Lake was filled in and the lagoons were created. The lake was dug by popular subscription and was a favorite with the people. The lagoons are too formal in character for park purposes, but together they provide a body of water which might be used as a basis for a large and picturesque lake, with natural outlines, islands and rustic bridges, such as would prove attractive to the artist and lover of nature and be in keeping with the park surroundings. Both in summer and winter, a lake of this character would be a delight and source of health and strength to young and old.

The Fair wreckers should not be allowed to dump refuse into the lagoons. Such a course might make it very difficult to utilize them for the creation of a beautiful lake.

Beautiful St. Louis women have for a long time been one of the chief features in the Sunday Post-Dispatch. There appears to be an inexhaustible supply. And they are not all debutantes.
On the first page of the coming Magazine a beautiful and well-known St. Louis married woman smiles at the reader. Her portrait was taken for an Emperor's portfolio of feminine loveliness. There is a wealth of romance in this issue of the Magazine, including the story of "A Bushel of Love Letters," which will interest young and old. The series of reproductions of famous pictures at the World's Fair is continued. The subject of this week's study is inspiring, wholesome, patriotic. The most decorated man in the world, a noted St.
Louisian, is the subject of an interesting story. He has glittering badges and medals, insignia of office and university degrees innumerable, and deserves them all. A new and useful discovery regarding the most wonderful chemical element in the universe has been made, and is illustrated and described in this Magazine. Many other interesting articles will add to the reader's store of knowledge. The Fashion Page contains the latest news on what to wear for the winter season. The New and Strange Things In and About St. Louis is of interest. And the last color page will delight theatergoers. Nothing has been omitted to make this week's Magazine become a visitor in every home.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

RED-HEAD DAY AT THE FAIR.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Noticing you are having so many days at the Fair, I wonder why the red heads can not have a day, as there are so many of us we would like a day of our own, calling it the Red-Head day.
RED HEAD.

OUR DRINKING WATER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I want to say a few words concerning the drinking water of St. Louis. It seems to me as if nobody takes notice of the change. Surely they ought to feel grateful for it. There is a big change on wash day for the women. It is a pleasure to drink and cook with it. I hope everybody appreciates it as much as I do. Many thanks to B. Atkins. He deserves a gold medal.
A YOUNG HOUSEWIFE.

FREE ADMISSIONS FOR TEACHERS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
The letter from a St. Louisian has touched a responsive chord in the hearts of East Side school teachers. We have been wondering why teachers are requested and urged to take their classes to the Fair, and yet no provision for a reduction of admission fee for the teacher.
We heartily endorse the plea made by our St. Louis friend.
Who will champion the cause of the teacher and it is the only one of the amendments which carried, if the tabulations are reliable.
ANOTHER ST. LOUISIAN.

VOTING MACHINES VS. PAPER BALLOTS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
On page 2 of your 7 o'clock edition yesterday, your statement of general election results in the city is made to read
"Amendment No. 2, providing for initiative and referendum, lost in St. Louis by 800 votes." Although your tabulations of results, on page 8, same edition, shows No. 2 to have carried by about the number of votes stated, and it is the only one of the amendments which carried, if the tabulations are reliable.
I would wager my last penny that a majority of those who voted on this proposition, in the state at large, voted in favor of it, and that is all that the law requires to carry it, but, in any case, it is altogether likely that those who voted position and did not vote on the question were counted as voting no. One of the judges in my precinct, where I acted as challenger and watcher, proposed this method of treatment in considering the count of amendments.
If we had voting machines, the counting of votes when none were cast would be an impossibility, as the machines wouldn't register anything where no action was taken by the voter.
Other cities are installing voting machines. They prove to be economical in the long run and the vote is counted as cast. Let us demand them.

FAILINGS OF GREAT MEN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I beg a little space to reply to your correspondent's, Mr. Williams, comment on George Edmonds' book "Facts and Falsehoods," for sale by Taylor & Co., Memphis. I trust Mr. Williams will permit me for thinking he is rather too hasty in scanning the book and did not quite do it justice. It does not seem to me that the purpose of the author was so much to show the bad side of Mr. Lincoln as to show the inclosures of his biographers. Is it not highly injudicious on one page to state that Lincoln was a "handsome" man, and another to state that he more nearly resembled Christ than any man born since the Nazarene? Is it not injudicious to state that Lincoln was a "handsome" man, and another to state that he more nearly resembled Christ than any man born since the Nazarene? Is it not injudicious to state that Lincoln was a "handsome" man, and another to state that he more nearly resembled Christ than any man born since the Nazarene? Is it not injudicious to state that Lincoln was a "handsome" man, and another to state that he more nearly resembled Christ than any man born since the Nazarene?
"Abe" (age 18) displayed his genius for mercantile affairs by handsomely putting up on the 10th of folks along the river, some counterfeit money which had been imposed on the friends, Allen Gentry.
The author of "Facts and Falsehoods" objects to the applauding way this story is told. "To applaud dishonesty is to teach dishonesty," says Mr. Edmonds. Posing off counterfeit money is a penal offense equal to stealing. Shall the boys of this country be taught this crime is a "handsome"
thing to do—displaying mercantile genius?
Another story biographers of Mr. Lincoln proudly relate Mr.
Edmonds condemns as calculated to exercise a bad influence over young men, is the story of a crowd of rowdy men engaged in fast-fights, money, tobacco, whiskey was the result. One of the most of these fights took place one mile from Gentryville. Bullies for 20 miles around attended. When Lincoln's man, Johnson, was down and the crowd cheering, Lincoln, wearing a crown of thorns, stepped forward, and, holding a bottle of whiskey, he said: "The winning man by the head, threw him off his feet, standing up, swinging a bottle of whiskey around his head, Lincoln swore aloud, 'I am the big buck of the lick; if any man doubts it, let him come on here and bet on it.'" Edmonds objects to stories of this nature being offered to American boys as something to admire and emulate.
But aside from this, the "Facts and Falsehoods" now considered to be fact. The lover of truth more than truth will do well to read this very original and interesting work. Shall the boys of this country be taught this crime is a "handsome"
thing to do—displaying mercantile genius?
Of these 28 only three are southern or Democratic.
The remainder are northern or Republican, and all considered indisputable authorities.

POST-DISPATCH ANSWERS

Legal questions not answered. Business addresses not given. No hints decided. D. P. S. "member" or "Constant Reader." One initial is enough. Address all letters to "Answers, Post-Dispatch, City."

B. K.—So far as is known, Hamlet is not to be played here this winter.

A. S.—Russian man-of-war flag, blue on white; merchant flag, white, blue and red.

C. W. B.—Mexican come here are of bullion value only.

W. J. H.—Ask at bookstores.

SUB.—The man who designed the electric lights for the Fair buildings is expected to return shortly. He lives in Omaha.

E. R. B.—A President can hold office 12 years or 20 years, or as long as he lives, if the people choose to elect him every four years.

D. E. R.—Write "Regrets" and "Heartly Congratulations," on the face of a visiting card and send it on receiving wedding invitations. If you cannot attend.

W. L.—The Frisco charges 3 cents a mile under a state law.
The fact that Lindenwood is within the city limits cuts no figure. Better buy tickets and get the lower rate.

W. B. M.—Whether or no a widow should use her husband's name in her signature is a matter of choice or taste. See World Almanac, 1904, for ranks in army and navy.

D. Questions should not be addressed "Editor," "City Editor," "Post-Dispatch," "Information Bureau," or anything else but "Answers, Post-Dispatch, City." Otherwise they may be delayed or lost.

A. P.—Illuminating gas, such as is used to light the streets, can be used in airships, but as it is very impure, balloons usually prefer the pure hydrogen, made for their special use.
It has a much greater lifting power.

T. W. MENDICK.—In the sentence, "I do not care whether the customer buys or no," a future, not a present condition.
It expressed had English is not accepted in the United States merely because it may be taught elsewhere.

H. E.—Washington City is in the District of Columbia, which is governed by three commissioners, two of whom are appointed by the President and one detailed by him from the army engineer corps. There are no elections, and the people of the city and district never vote. A soldier cannot vote in Missouri.

B. M. G.—Alta Ryan writes: "There is also a very beautiful poem called 'Fate' written by Margaret S. Coghlan of this city. It was first published, included in conspicuous display lines, in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, and was widely copied.
I have it in my scrap book. I think it was published in the spring of 1900."

J. M. H.—Louisianians contradict the statement that octopuses do not breed. Q. V. is quid vide and means "which see."
Pronounce Baff, with a as in "fat." Newspaper artists put a square cap on a workman because European pictures sometimes have them with a square cap. American workmen do not wear such caps, at least not generally.

T. P.—Under the election laws of Missouri, a foreigner having declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, or taken out his first papers, can vote after those papers are one year old, and he can vote on his first papers for four years, or until his papers are five years old, and no longer. He cannot vote on his first papers until they are one year old, nor can he vote thereon after the paper is five years old. He must then go in a competent of full citizenship, having common law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, and take out his final papers.

M. L.—Lay the scorchers in the sun, wet with soda.
Where this does not answer, chop and extract the juice from two onions and boil this with half a pint of vinegar, an ounce of white soap and two ounces of fuller's earth.
Spread this when cool, on the scorched part, and, when dry, wash it off in clear water. In brief, treat a scorched skin as you would any other skin, when you can. When you cannot, use the soda and vinegar, and the fuller's earth. Lemon

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS
FROM TODAY
IN ST. LOUIS

BY O. B. JOYFUL

From the Post-Dispatch of Nov. 11, 1929.

Capt. T. S. Baldwin, the venerable inventor of the airship, "California Arrow," which made the first successful flight at the World's Fair in 1904, dropped in a while this morning to see us and talk over old times in St. Louis. "Airshiping ain't anything now like it was in those days," says Capt. Baldwin. "Not that it isn't better, you understand, but dog my cats if there wasn't some great times and some great thrills twenty-five years ago today in St. Louis when my sky pilot, Roy Knabenshue, put his hand to the helm and holed to let 'er go. Geminently, how the people roared! And how they rubbednecked! And how they raved! Those were great times, I tell you, and though it is nothing now to carry forty people skyarkin' around through the air in one ship, playing tag with the clouds and dodgin' showers, just for an afternoon's outing, the game ain't near so excitin' to my mind now as it was then. However, I have the satisfaction that my boy Knabenshue is now one of the most renowned pilots on the Milky Way." Ed Butler, whose trial for bribery on an indictment issued about twenty-seven years ago, is about to be called in the circuit court says he will knife the Democratic ticket if the threat is put through. He always makes it a rule to do that.

The forty-nine Republican Congressmen from Missouri held a meeting at the Planters Hotel this morning to get together on matters pertaining to the interests of the people during the coming session of Congress. Mr. Dennis, the one Democratic member, was unable to attend on account of old age.

Mr. N. C. Goodwin, a venerable comedian, once known as "Nat," is playing at the Olympic this week. Mr. Goodwin conceived an intense dislike for this abbreviation of his Christian name, "Nathaniel," many years ago, and has obtained judgments for various amounts from many persons for calling him "Nat." Wouldn't Nat jar you? Law Docket, the sole survivor of the old line of twentieth century minister-pals, is parading the streets of our handsome little city today for the 14,047th time. Mr. Docket is now the superintendent of the Old Jokes' Home at Kankakee, Ill.

Astonished.

"What did you think of my speech?" said the orator for the Prohibition party. "I was astonished," answered Col. Sullivan of Kentucky. "I never knew that water could produce so much locustacy."

The First Drop Counts.

Percy: Molly, for your sake, I'd shed the last drop of my blood!
Molly: Yes, all young men say that. But somehow they seem very careful never to shed the first drop.—New Yorker.

TOOTHLESS PEOPLE

Unfortunately those afflicted were formerly entitled to a large share of sympathy, but since the cost of teeth has been reduced to a minimum and brought within the reach of all, sympathy for those who go through life without them is likewise reduced to a minimum. We make a full set of teeth for $3.00; they are good, serviceable teeth, too. Think of it! And we make them with or without plates, and you can depend on our work as first-class in every particular, and our prices are reasonable.

The Little Dancing Fairies.

MOST of you have seen the smooth, round beans called "magic beans." They were brought to this country several years ago from the East Indies, and were a great curiosity until their secret was discovered. These are now sold in most of the large Japanese stores.

For a long time many people believed these beans were a part of the mysteries for which the East Indies have always been famous.

One day a woman who had watched the movements of the magic beans and had noticed how quickly heat brought them to life carefully cut one open. The lively little worm which is in every bean makes it jump.

When these are made so that they will balance well place them on a tray or plate which is at first quite cold. Now heat a plate and place the tray on it, and in a few moments every little fairy will begin to dance in a mysterious way that will puzzle your friends who are not in the secret.

EVERYBODY SMOKES IN JAPAN.

I think every man, woman and child in Japan smokes. This may be an exaggeration, especially as regards the children; but it is no exaggeration to say that smoking is as much a part of the every-day life of the people as is eating or drinking, and it is indulged in by women with the innocent, nonchalant enjoyment as is exhibited by the men. It was a bit of a shock to me when I first came to Japan to come face to face with this fact before I had an opportunity to form any sort of impressions of the little women in whom I was prepared to be so interested. I landed at Nagasaki and almost immediately took a train for Moji, whence I was to go for a trip through the interior. It was early morning, and being in the midst of the rainy season, everything was soggy damp.

The first-class carriage into which I was shown was anything but first class; it was unclean and badly ventilated, and its only other occupants were two Japanese ladies and a man. The women had evidently just finished breakfasting in the car, and were now sitting on their feet upon the seat absolutely enraptured in clouds of the most evil-smelling smoke, which they puffed from long cigarettes. They were beautifully dressed in silk kimonos and were undoubtedly gentlewomen. I knew that even then, when I had seen so few, and I must confess I was rather annoyed, because their daintiness seemed to be entirely destroyed. But now, after a residence of months, I think I would rather see them smoke than not. They do it so daintily, so innocently, with such frank enjoyment, and so constantly, that it seems a very part of their quaint Japannese—Eleanor Franklin's Japanese letter in Leslie's Weekly.

City Plans a Commercial Forest.

Los Angeles, Cal., has 200 acres of brush land called Griffith Park, which it intends to convert into a commercial forest. This will be the first instance of a city in the United States creating a forest. The practice is quite common in Europe, where the forest parks have not only contributed to the pleasure of the people, but have been more than self-supporting through their timber output. The idea is to convert a waste piece of land into a productive forest, which will not only pay for its creation and care through the sale of mature timber, but will prove a constant source of pleasure and recreation for the citizens of Los Angeles. It is an entirely practical plan.

LOVE LETTERS READ IN MURDER TRIAL

Wife's Letters to Husband Who Killed Her Read to Jury to Show Affection.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Letters couched in terms of endearment to Victor Roland Shea from his young wife whom he afterwards killed were introduced in evidence at Judge Chetlain's court after a bitter legal battle between the state's representa-

Clarence Darrow, senior counsel for the defense, stated that it was but fair that the murdered girl's letters should be introduced, so that it might be clearly shown that her parents had done much to oppose their daughter's seeing O'Shea, even after they were aware of the runaway marriage. Assistant State's Attorney Olson objected, and it was an hour before Judge Wetzelin, to the immense satisfaction of the spectators, gave the court's decision.

While Clarence Darrow bent over the rail which separates the counsels' seats from the jury, and in a clear voice read Amy's protestations of love, Mrs. O'Shea sat calm and apparently unmoved but a few feet away. Mrs. Hogeness bent forward eagerly, for it was the first time she had heard the words of love written by her murdered daughter.

In most cases Mrs. Amy Hogeness O'Shea would have been called "My Dear Husband" and "My Dear Mother" and "My Dear Amy."

"Dec. 2, 1901.—Why not come over and see me? Your parents are so good. Would it not be hard if your parents were as hard?"

"Dec. 23, 1901.—Am O. K. dearest, but wish the folks were different."

"Jan. 12, 1902.—I must close as mamma is watching me."

"Dec. 31, 1901.—Will told me that mamma was coming in, and to tell you not to come again. I hope things will come out all right. Mamma would scold if she knew."

Other letters referred to her mother's ingratitude for the fact that O'Shea had visited her on certain occasions. She frequently made appointments for meetings in the park and at other places.

One letter of particular pathos contained the passage:

"Money, money, money, and how little we have of it. Ever your own forever. AMY."

Court closed while Mr. Darrow was reading the letters. There are about 100 of them all, and the defense attorneys say they

LOVE LETTERS READ IN MURDER TRIAL

Wife's Letters to Husband Who Killed Her Read to Jury to Show Affection.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Letters couched in terms of endearment to Victor Roland Shea from his young wife whom he afterwards killed were introduced in evidence at Judge Chetlain's court after a bitter legal battle between the state's representa-

Clarence Darrow, senior counsel for the defense, stated that it was but fair that the murdered girl's letters should be introduced, so that it might be clearly shown that her parents had done much to oppose their daughter's seeing O'Shea, even after they were aware of the runaway marriage. Assistant State's Attorney Olson objected, and it was an hour before Judge Wetzelin, to the immense satisfaction of the spectators, gave the court's decision.

While Clarence Darrow bent over the rail which separates the counsels' seats from the jury, and in a clear voice read Amy's protestations of love, Mrs. O'Shea sat calm and apparently unmoved but a few feet away. Mrs. Hogeness bent forward eagerly, for it was the first time she had heard the words of love written by her murdered daughter.

In most cases Mrs. Amy Hogeness O'Shea would have been called "My Dear Husband" and "My Dear Mother" and "My Dear Amy."

"Dec. 2, 1901.—Why not come over and see me? Your parents are so good. Would it not be hard if your parents were as hard?"

"Dec. 23, 1901.—Am O. K. dearest, but wish the folks were different."

"Jan. 12, 1902.—I must close as mamma is watching me."

"Dec. 31, 1901.—Will told me that mamma was coming in, and to tell you not to come again. I hope things will come out all right. Mamma would scold if she knew."

Other letters referred to her mother's ingratitude for the fact that O'Shea had visited her on certain occasions. She frequently made appointments for meetings in the park and at other places.

One letter of particular pathos contained the passage:

"Money, money, money, and how little we have of it. Ever your own forever. AMY."

Court closed while Mr. Darrow was reading the letters. There are about 100 of them all, and the defense attorneys say they
